To Whom It May Concern:

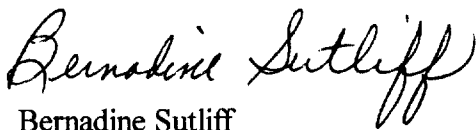

This has reference to Docket Nos. 98N-1230, 96P-0418 and 97P-0197.

I believe that the forced molting of hens has a lot to do with the increase in salmonella poisonings in this country. The diseases caused by this practice are never mentioned by the liberal media.

The FDA should be more responsible than just having warning labels put on egg cartons and regulating egg refrigeration temperatures. It should ban this horrible practice not just because of the infectious diseases it can cause, but also because of the cruelty to these poor hens.

Please do all you can to ban the forced molting of hens. Thank you.

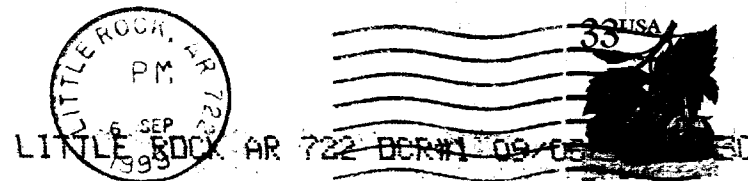

Sincerely,

Bernadine Sutliff
